IN MEMORIAM

NAGA SPANDANA MUPPANENI, assistant professor of electrical and computer engineering, passed away July 26, 2022.

Muppaneni taught at Lafayette for three years, one as a visiting assistant professor and two as a tenure-track assistant professor. She earned a doctoral degree in engineering and applied sciences, semiconductor technology, and electrical engineering from Idaho State University. Her research interests included digital circuits and systems, computer aided design and synthesis, and artificial intelligence.

Muppaneni was one of the first members of an informal group created to support younger professors of color within engineering and other STEM fields at Lafayette. She is remembered for her dedication, strength, and kindness to colleagues and students alike.

"[Muppaneni] worked very hard—not only to be part of this Lafayette community but also to be a good teacher," says Department Head of Electrical and Computer Engineering Professor Yih-Choung Yu. "During office hours, her doors were never closed."

Muppaneni also is remembered for her resilience in facing challenges as a woman of color in STEM. According to her colleagues, she always overcame challenges presented in her career and excelled in her position.

Muppaneni's funeral was held Aug. 1, 2022, and there was a gathering hosted in Acopian Room 429 on Sept. 1, 2022, to give students an opportunity to celebrate her life.

RETIRING FACULTY ELECTED TO EMERITUS STATUS

DEBORAH L. BYRD, professor of English, has been a member of the faculty for 41 years.

She earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in English from Duke University, and her master's and doctoral degrees in English from Emory University. Byrd joined the faculty as assistant professor in 1981 and was promoted to associate professor with tenure in 1988 and full professor in 2012. She served as associate head of the Department of English from 2013 to 2018.

Byrd's areas of interest include Romantic and Victorian poetry, women's and gender studies, community-based teaching and research, feminist and service-learning pedagogy, and support systems for young and low-income mothers. She has taught a wide variety of courses in the Department of English and the Women's, Gender, and Sexuality Studies Program, as well as other interdisciplinary courses. Byrd's courses have shown a deep interest in connecting her teaching to issues of gender, race, class, and the welfare of local communities. In addition, Byrd has been an adviser and mentor to many students.

Byrd is co-editor of three collections: Feminist Perspectives on Young Mothers, Maternal Pedagogies: In and Outside the Classroom, and Teaching the "Isms": Feminist Pedagogy Across the Disciplines. In addition to publications on young mothers and community-based learning, some of them co-authored with former Lafayette students and local community partners, Byrd has published articles on such writers as Tennyson, Joyce, Fowles, and Robert and Elizabeth Barrett Browning.

During her time at Lafayette, Byrd helped to establish and served as coordinator of the Women's, Gender, and Sexuality Studies Program, was the inaugural director of the Landis Center for Community Engagement, founded the College's study abroad program in Greece, chaired the Diversity Committee and the Teaching and Learning Committee, and has sat on several committees of the Board of Trustees as well as other elected and advisory committees.

Byrd has served as a president and vice president of the Easton Area Neighborhood Center's board of directors, and as project director of the center's ASPIRE teen parent mentoring program. She also has served as an advisory board member of the Motherhood Initiative for Research and Community Involvement and on the editorial board for Demeter Press.

Byrd is the recipient of the Marquis Distinguished Teaching Award, Distinguished Leadership in Community-Based Learning and Research Award, Excellence in Diversity Education Award, James P. Crawford Excellence in Teaching Award, and Lindback Award for Excellence in Teaching and Service.

CHUN WAI LIEW, associate professor of computer science, has been a member of the faculty for 28 years.

He earned a Bachelor of Science degree in engineering from Cornell University, as well as a doctoral degree in computer science from Rutgers University. Liew joined the faculty as a visiting assistant professor in 1995 and was promoted to associate professor with tenure in 2005. He served as head of the Department of Computer Science from 2005 to 2012 and from 2018 to 2023.

Liew's interests lie primarily in solving problems that are at the boundaries of disciplinary fields. He has been involved in research projects involving computer science and art (collaborating with Ed Kerns and Jim Toia), biology (Robert Kurt), geology (Larry Malinconico and David Sunderlin), mathematics (Rob Root), neuroscience (Elaine Reynolds), and political science (Katalin Fabian). He has developed new courses at Lafayette, including Introduction to Computational Science, Introduction to Numerical Computing for Engineers, A Modeling Based Approach to Biology, and Principles of Data Science. His approach to teaching uses a combination of flipped classrooms, problem-based learning, and lightweight groups.

Liew has published articles in journals such as the International Journal of Artificial Intelligence Tools, Zoology, and Computers in Biology and Medicine. He has dozens of conference publications, and he was the recipient of multiple National Science Foundation grants (NSF-CPATH, NSF-CRUI, NSF-SSTEM) as well as significant research funding from the Air Force Office of Scientific Research.

During his time at Lafayette, Liew has served as cochair of the Data Science, Health and Life Science, and Digital Scholarship initiatives, as a member of the building committee for the Rockwell Integrated Sciences Center and several search committees, and as a faculty mentor for the Lafayette men's and women's swimming program. LESLIE F. MUHLFELDER, ESQ., a member of the Class of 1981, is the retiring general counsel and vice president of Human Resources at Lafayette College. Muhlfelder also served as a member of the faculty. She shared her passion for education by teaching a popular course in the Government and Law Department titled Race and Gender in the American Legal System. Please see her full biography under "Candidates for Honorary Degrees" to read more about Muhlfelder and her profound contributions to the Lafayette community.

IAN D. SMITH, Richard H. Jr. '60 and Joan K. Sell Chair in the Humanities, has been a member of the faculty for 31 years.

He earned a Bachelor of Arts in English and French from University of West Indies, as well as a doctoral degree from Columbia University. Smith joined the faculty as an assistant professor of English in 1991 and was promoted to associate professor with tenure in 2002 and full professor in 2010. In 2016, Professor Smith became the Richard H. Jr. '60 and Joan K. Sell Chair in the Humanities.

Smith's teaching interests are Shakespeare, Renaissance and early modern drama, early modern race studies, race theory, queer studies, modern and contemporary drama, international literature, and contemporary fiction. He has taught a wide range of courses, including College Writing, Literary History, Contemporary Fiction, Shakespeare, International Literature, and Race Theory. In his courses, Smith takes students who have had a conventional encounter with literature in high school and leads them on a literary journey through a transformative "eureka experience." He holds students accountable not for opinions but for informed judgments. Smith has been an adviser and mentor to many students.

Smith is an engaged scholar and has published three books, including under-contract Black Shakespeare: Reading and Misreading Race. He has published over two dozen articles and book chapters, as well as several book reviews. He also has contributed to many presentations, conferences, and papers.

Smith's service to the College, profession, and community has been significant. He has served in his department as chair of the Curriculum Committee, Graduate School Committee, and a committee that proposed the establishment of a separate Department of Theater. Smith chaired the Presidential Oversight Committee on Sexual Assault and Sexual Harassment, the Student Appeals Committee, and Lafayette Symposium Committee, and he was faculty associate on the Board of Trustee Committee on Development, Alumni, and Community Relations. Smith also served as a New York Posse mentor. His extensive professional service includes service on the editorial boards for Shakespeare Quarterly, English Literary Renaissance, and Global Shakespeare Inverted. He is on the advisory board of New Folger Shakespeare Library Editions. He also has served as a reviewer of articles and as an external evaluator in tenure and promotion cases.

Smith received the Thomas Roy and Lura Forrest Jones Award for Superior Teaching and Scholarship in 2015.

SUZANNE R. WESTFALL, professor of theater, has been a member of the faculty for 36 years.

She earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in English from University of Massachusetts Dartmouth, as well as a master's and doctoral degree in theater from University of Toronto Centre for Drama, Theatre & Performance Studies. Westfall joined the faculty as assistant professor in 1986 and was promoted to associate professor with tenure in 1990 and full professor in 2002. She served as director of the arts from 2014 to 2017, head of the Department of Theater from 2017 to 2023, and head of the Department of English from 2004 to 2009.

A member of both the English and theater departments, Westfall has taught a wide range of courses at Lafayette, including Acting Shakespeare, Theater History, Review and Criticism, Theatrical Styles, and more. She also has taught First-Year Seminars and has led several study abroad programs in London. Her courses have contributed in various ways to the Common Course of Study. Additionally, Westfall directed dozens of productions at Lafayette, including Frankenstein 2029, The Taming of the Shrew, Disgraced, and Arcadia.

Westfall was pivotal in the advancement of an online edition of A Midsummer Night's Dream and was the author or editor of three additional books: Theatrical Patronage in Shakespeare's England, Patrons and Performance: Early Tudor Household Revels, and Northumberland. She also has written 13 essays in collected editions, as well as seven journal articles.

During her time at Lafayette, Westfall has served as chair of both the Arts Advisory Committee and the Curriculum and Educational Policy Committee. She also has served as a member of the Aging Studies Advisory and Film and Media Studies Advisory committees. Lafayette's first Director of the Arts, Westfall also served in the College's Social Media Working Group, and multiple steering and search committees.

Outside of Lafayette, Westfall served on the executive board of the Medieval and Renaissance Drama Society, the editorial board of Early Theater, and the board of directors for Records of Early English Drama, Modern Language Association, Shakespeare Association in America, and Association for Theatre in Higher Education.

Westfall is a recipient of the James P. Crawford Award, Marquis Distinguished Teaching Award, Lindback Award, and Student Government Superior Teaching Award, and she has received multiple grants.

RETIRING TRUSTEES ELECTED TO EMERITUS STATUS

BARBARA LEVY, a member of the Class of 1977, has been a Trustee since 1998. Currently, Levy serves as a member of the Grounds and Buildings, Compensation, and Development and Alumni and Community Relations committees. A member of the Executive Committee and Steering Committee through 2018, she previously served as chair of the Committee on Athletics and Student Affairs, chair of the Audit Committee, chair of the ad hoc Committee on Religious Life, and co-chair of the Working Group on Greek Life and Campus Community. Levy was vice chair of the Live Connected, Lead Change capital campaign, co-chair (2021) and chair (2013) of the Presidential Inauguration Steering Committees, and co-chair of the First Women of Lafayette 50 Year Co-ed Celebration, and she led the 150th Lafayette-Lehigh Rivalry Committee.

Levy's record of service to Lafayette is long and distinguished. She has been a member of the Council of Lafayette Women, member of the Lafayette Leadership Council, mentor through the Gateway Program, participant in the Lafayette Leadership Institute, Class Reunion chairperson, and member of the ad hoc committee that reviewed the space needs for the Psychology Department. She has been an alumni president of the Class of 1977, alumni phone-a-thon volunteer, externship sponsor, and a representative to the Class Alumni Council and Alumni Council Executive committees. Levy currently is a member of the Fleck Society for consistent giving, the Marquis Society, and First Women of Lafayette.

Levy received the George T. Woodring '19 Alumni Association Service Award in 2012 and the inaugural Daniel H. Weiss Award for Leadership and Vision in 2013. She received the Joseph E. Bell '28 Award for Alumni Distinguished Service to the College in 2014, and the College's highest honor, the Lafayette Medal for Distinguished Service, in 2016.

In 2007, Levy retired after 30 years in the retail industry as executive vice president for merchandising for Ross Stores Inc. Prior to Ross Stores, Levy was senior vice president for R.H. Macy Inc. She currently does consulting work in the retail industry and has held positions on public boards.

Levy is active in her local community and has served in many financial leadership positions at Temple Beth Ahm in Aberdeen, N.J. She has been a devoted mentor for students at her alma mater Asbury Park High School; in 2014, she was inducted into the Asbury Park High School Hall of Fame. Levy also has served as a board member of Chhange (Center for Holocaust, Human Rights & Genocide Education) at Brookdale Community College.

In 2008, Levy and her husband, Joseph Hollander, were inducted into the Société d'Honneur for their generous support of numerous programs at Lafayette. They have two daughters, Rachel Hollander '11 and Alyssa Hollander '14.

CANDIDATES FOR HONORARY DEGREES

DANIEL E. COHEN, a member of the Class of 1965, is an attorney at Hof & Reid LLC (formerly known as Seidel, Hof & Reid), a law firm in Bethlehem, Pa., that specializes in personal injury law.

A native of Easton, Pa., Cohen graduated from Easton High School and earned a Bachelor of Arts in English from Lafayette College. He went on to attend University of Pennsylvania Law School, and he began practicing law in 1968. Soon after, he partnered with Norman Seidel '38 in the firm of Seidel and Cohen, which grew into the present-day Hof & Reid LLC.

Cohen has been admitted before the trial and appellate courts of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, as well as the United States Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit and the United States District Courts for the Eastern and Middle Districts of Pennsylvania. He has served as a member of a hearing committee of the Disciplinary Board of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania and, in the nonprofit world, has served as president and board member of B'nai Abraham synagogue, Jewish Federation of the Lehigh Valley, Lehigh Valley Jewish Foundation, and ProJeCt of Easton Inc., as well as having served on the boards for the Hugh Moore Canal Commission, Premier Bank (now Fulton Bank), and Friends of the State Theatre Inc. Cohen also is the co-founder and vice president of The Village on College Hill.

Cohen's practice has concentrated in land use law, business organizations and corporate matters, transactions and wills, trusts, and estates. He has represented the College for approximately 40 years as well as numerous nonprofits in the Easton area.

Cohen and his wife, Nancy, reside in Easton and have two daughters, Cantor Jen Cohen of Cherry Hill, N.J., and Amy Michaels of Portland, Maine.

LESLIE F. MUHLFELDER, ESQ., a member of the Class of 1981, is the retiring general counsel and vice president of Human Resources at Lafayette College. Muhlfelder also served as a member of the faculty.

Muhlfelder's wise counsel and principled leadership have steadily guided the College since 1995, when she was appointed by the Board of Trustees as the College's first general counsel. She has served the College with extraordinary distinction and honor under four Lafayette presidents and four Board chairs, and the friendships she has maintained with Trustees, faculty, staff, students, and alumni span generations. Throughout the years, Muhlfelder helped navigate difficult issues and provided indispensable guidance to the College when challenging circumstances and less-than-predictable events arose. Muhlfelder's constant, reassuring presence, wisdom, and devotion have become central to the College's cohesion and stability. Lafayette is far better as a result of her tireless commitment and kindness toward decades of members of the Lafayette community—students, faculty, staff, Trustees, and alumni alike.

When asked to describe Muhlfelder and her countless contributions to Lafayette, her colleagues say "irreplaceable" is the word that comes to mind. Daniel Weiss, who served as president of the College from 2005 to 2013 and worked closely with Muhlfelder throughout his tenure, says he was especially thankful for Muhlfelder's counsel during his transition to his role as president. Weiss adds that, after one day, he "couldn't imagine running the College without her."

Before being asked by Arthur Rothkopf to join Lafayette's administration and faculty in 1995, Leslie served as associate university counsel at Temple University. Prior to working at Temple, she began her legal career as a litigator in private practice in Philadelphia. She earned her Juris Doctor degree from Georgetown University, where she served as a member of the Georgetown law review, and her Bachelor of Arts in economics from Lafayette College, where she was awarded the Gilbert Prize in English.

Muhlfelder, who is a teacher at heart, also shared her passion for education by teaching a popular course in the Government and Law Department titled Race and Gender in the American Legal System. The course, which Muhlfelder taught using the Socratic method, involved a constitutional and statutory review of race- and gender-related issues from 1850 to the present, and included oral arguments before a panel of judges and lawyers, aimed at developing students' confidence in their speaking and analytical abilities. The superb quality of Muhlfelder's teaching was consistently celebrated in her students' course evaluations. Characteristically, Muhlfelder was always a tad embarrassed to receive ratings that were among the highest at the College.

From a human resources standpoint, the caring team that Muhlfelder has led throughout the years reflects her steadfast commitment to supporting her faculty and staff colleagues. She is well known for advocating on behalf of all members of the Lafayette community on important issues such as health care, tuition remission, and other benefits and programs. During her time at the College, Muhlfelder has been relied on to lead countless committees and initiatives, and she frequently has been called on to lecture on legal issues facing the nation's colleges and universities.

Muhlfelder's deep love for the College and her support of the Lafayette community are likewise apparent to anyone who knows her. Over the years, she and her husband, Richard Freemann, have expressed their commitment to the College's mission by establishing the Lennertz Prize for Exceptional Teaching and Mentoring in honor of James E. Lennertz, Muhlfelder's Constitutional Law professor at Lafayette who had a transformative impact on her life, and the Ludwig and Beatrice B. Muhlfelder Prize, awarded each year to a Lafayette student who has made a significant contribution to the field of Holocaust studies. Muhlfelder's father, Ludwig Muhlfelder, who dedicated his life to sharing his experiences and keeping alive the memory of those who perished in the Holocaust, spoke at Lafayette College on several occasions.

Muhlfelder would like to thank her entire wonderful family for the loving support they have given her throughout the course of her years at Lafayette.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

ELIZABETH A. MOWINS '89 is an award-winning television play-by-play announcer and sports journalist for ESPN, CBS, and Marquee Sports Network.

With men's and women's college sports as her primary assignments, Mowins has been the voice of the Women's College World Series on ESPN for more than 20 years. She also has called NCAA championships in basketball, softball, soccer, and volleyball. A prominent voice on ESPN's regular-season men's and women's basketball telecasts, she was a member of the broadcast team for the 2011 Women's World Cup in Germany.

The national spotlight shone brightly on Mowins in September 2017. She became the first woman to be play-by-play announcer for a coast-to-coast National Football League telecast when she called ESPN's Monday Night Football game between the Los Angeles Chargers and Denver Broncos. The historic moment marked the first time a female broadcaster called an NFL game since Gayle Sierens worked a regional telecast 30 years earlier for NBC in 1987. Mowins was featured by Sports Illustrated, CNN, CBS News, The Boston Globe, The New York Times, The Washington Post, Los Angeles Times, and other national media outlets.

Mowins currently works ESPN and ABC Saturday games during the fall with Kirk Morrison and Stormy Buonantony. Mowins also was the first woman to call play-by-play for the NFL on CBS, and she has called NFL games on the network since 2017. She has been the preseason voice of the Oakland/ Las Vegas Raiders since 2015 and has called college football games on ESPN since 2005.

An English major at Lafayette, Mowins was inducted into the Maroon Club Hall of Fame in 2005. A two-time captain in basketball, she led her team to the East Coast Conference championship in 1986-87. A three-time all-conference selection, she scored more than 1,000 points and holds the school record for assists.

Mowins has enjoyed broadcasting several Lafayette events, including a few Lafayette-Lehigh football games and the 2000 Patriot League men's basketball tournament championship game vs. Navy.

Mowins holds a Master of Arts degree in journalism from Syracuse University's Newhouse School, and she was awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Letters by Lafayette College in 2018. She is one of five recipients to date of the Newhouse School's Marty Glickman Award for Leadership in Sports Media, along with Bob Costas, Marv Albert, Sean McDonough, and Mike Tirico. The College Sports Information Directors of America honored her with the Jake Wade Award in 2014 in recognition of her outstanding contributions covering collegiate athletics.

A native of North Syracuse, N.Y., Mowins was inducted into the Greater Syracuse Hall of Fame in 2009.

GEORGE WHARTON PEPPER PRIZE WINNER

FATIMATA DAMBA CHAM was selected by students and members of the faculty and administration as the recipient of the George Wharton Pepper Prize, awarded annually to the senior "who most closely represents the Lafayette ideal."

Cham is graduating with a Bachelor of Arts degree with majors in government and law as well as women's, gender, and sexuality studies. Among her more recent accomplishments, she is a 2022 Harry S. Truman Scholar, a 2022 GLOW Global Fellow, a 2022 Basta Fellow, a Center for Integrated Teaching and Learning Fellow, a first-generation member of the Tri-Alpha Honor Society, and a member of the Triota Honor Society.

Cham has long used the intersection between poetry and activism to talk about issues related to environmental injustice, gender inequality, racism, Islamophobia, and other issues she is passionate about. The Bronx, N.Y., native and first-generation Gambian college student arrived at Lafayette as a Coca-Cola Scholar, having been selected for her work in leadership, community service, and positive change made in her community. During her first year, she founded the Lafayette chapter of Girl Up, a club dedicated to spreading awareness about gender equity, and was named a Sadie Nash Fellow for bringing to life a meaningful and ambitious social justice project in the community. She also published Perfectly Imperfect, a book of short poems dedicated to her identity and discussing themes such as the Black experience and activism.

The immeasurable number of clubs, organizations, and charitable causes to which Cham dedicated her time over the past four years exceed the ability to list each one. She became a McKelvy Scholar in 2020 (of which she is now a co-internal chair), and in that year alone, Cham also: was a Lehigh Valley Association of Independent Colleges (LVAIC) Global Student Conference presenter; became a Dyer Center and Landis Center fellow; began her present term as a Kaleidoscope social justice peer educator; began serving as a Student Government governor and member of the Equity and Inclusion Committee; joined the Public Relations Muslim Student Association, began her current term as a Gateway ambassador; served on the Student Life Committee; and became a global Gen-Z community member of The Conversationalist and a featured honoree in its Social Impact category.

2021 saw Cham beginning tenures as a Bloomberg Philanthropies intern, a Harvard University PPLC Scholar, a Generation Green Digital Organizing Fellow, a Global Girlhood community manager, and Muslim Student Association president. It was followed up by her 2022 appearance on Apple TV+'s Dear..., which was well documented and celebrated both inside and outside of the Lafayette community. The episode gave Cham the opportunity to let her role model, Nobel Peace Prize winner Malala Yousafzai, know just how much of a difference she had made in her life. Also in 2022, Cham was named a Youth Mentoring Action Network (Em)power Cohort.

For her selection as this year's Pepper Prize winner, Cham would like to thank, "my parents, professors, friends, and anyone who was pivotal in my time at Lafayette."

DEGREES IN COURSE

Lafayette College will confer the following degrees in course: Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science in Biochemistry, Bachelor of Science in Biology, Bachelor of Science in Chemistry, Bachelor of Science in Computer Science, Bachelor of Science in Environmental Science, Bachelor of Science in Geology, Bachelor of Science in Integrative Engineering, Bachelor of Science in Mathematics, Bachelor of Science in Neuroscience, Bachelor of Science in Physics, Bachelor of Science in Psychology, Bachelor of Science in Chemical Engineering, Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering, Bachelor of Science in Electrical and Computer Engineering, and Bachelor of Science in Mechanical Engineering. The major programs of the Bachelor of Arts candidates are noted following the degree.

Degree recipients with outstanding scholastic records are graduated with academic honors. Those exceptional students with cumulative averages of 3.85 or higher (where A equals 4.0) are graduated summa cum laude. If the average is at least 3.75 but less than 3.85, the degree is granted magna cum laude. Those students with cumulative averages of at least 3.65 but less than 3.75 graduate cum laude. ### NOTES ON THE CEREMONY

THE PROCESSIONAL MACE

The tradition of the mace in the academic ceremony is the result of a long evolution. From the 11th to the early part of the 16th century, the mace (derived from the French masse) was a short wooden club used in hand-to-hand combat. Commonly, medieval monarchs were protected by trusted sergeants-at-arms who carried maces, and in courtly surroundings the weapon soon came to be regarded as a royal symbol. Often, it was richly decorated with engraved silver and gold ornamentation, such as the royal seal and coat of arms.

Today, the mace is a symbol of the sovereignty of the College and, at Lafayette, is carried by the faculty member senior in rank of full professor in the academic procession opening the annual Commencement Exercises.

The processional mace used in today's ceremony was presented to the College in 1954 as a gift of the Class of 1904. Designed by Frederick K. Detwiller, a member of the 1904 class and artist-in-residence at Lafayette from 1948 until his death in 1953, the intricate ornamentation was executed in silver by Tiffany and Company. The head of the mace forms a loving cup engraved on one side with the coat of arms of the Marquis de Lafayette, and on the other with the College Seal. On the seal is a portrait of the young Lafayette and the College motto, Veritas liberabit ("The truth shall make you free"). The mace is topped by 12 scrollwork flanges, symbolic reminders of the sharp iron blades that barbed the head of the original battle weapon.

The Dean of the Faculty carries an elaborately carved wooden mace that, like the processional mace, was first used at Commencement in 1954. A gift of Gottfried Eypeltauer, an Austrian exchange student who attended Lafayette in 1950–51, it was carved in Austria and bears the College Seal and the coat of arms of the Marquis de Lafayette.

The other marshals' batons are for the most part made from the stair rail of the house long occupied by Professor Francis A. March. The batons were first carried at the inauguration of President John Henry MacCracken in 1915.

THE ACADEMIC COSTUME

The origin of academic dress can be traced to the medieval university, when robes were often necessary for warmth in the unheated halls where scholarly enclaves gathered. Today, however, the scholar's gown has become a ceremonial symbol of academic distinction.

In the United States, formal guidelines for academic dress were initiated in 1895 at a national conference of educational leaders hosted by Columbia University. Perceiving the need to determine a common set of practices among the rapidly increasing number of American colleges and universities, representatives formed an Intercollegiate Code on academic dress. Revised in 1932 and 1959, the Intercollegiate Code still provides the descriptive guidelines for interpreting ceremonial dress at an academic convocation today.

By stipulating design and color variations in the ceremonial robe, the Code provides a system to distinguish the academic degree, institution, and field of study of the wearer. The traditional robe is black, but at some institutions earning a doctorate carries with it the privilege of wearing a robe in the institutional color.

Degree: The shape and size of the hood and the design of the sleeves indicate the academic degree of the wearer.

Bachelor's Degree: Pointed sleeves; usually without hood

Master's Degree: Long, closed sleeves with arm slits; narrow hood

Doctor's Degree: Bell-shaped sleeves;

broad, draped hood

Institution: The color of the lining of the hood denotes the college or university by which the degree was conferred. A partial list of degree-granting institutions is included here:

Lafayette: Maroon and white

Carnegie Mellon: Tartan
Chicago: Maroon
Columbia: Blue and white
Duke: Blue and white

Harvard: Crimson Johns Hopkins: Old gold and sable

Pennsylvania: Red and blue
Penn State: Blue and white
Princeton: Orange and black
Washington: Purple and gold

Yale: Blue

Field of Study: The color of the hood facing identifies the field of study in which the academic degree has been conferred.

White: Arts, Letters, Humanities

Gold: Science
Dark Blue: Philosophy
Scarlet: Theology
Purple: Law

Orange: Engineering
Brown: Fine Arts
Green: Medicine
Copper: Economics
